Any activity which seriously endangers the health or safety of another individual.

To help you identify whether something is hazing or not, ask yourself the following questions:

Would active, current members of the group refuse to take part in this activity with the new members and do the same activity?
Does the activity risk emotional or physical harm/abuse?
Would I object to this activity being photographed for the newspaper, filmed by a news crew, or appearing as a news headline?
Would I feel comfortable participating in this activity if my parents, professor, coach, or university official were watching?
Am I being asked to keep these activities a secret?
Am I doing anything illegal?
Does participation violate my values or those of my organization?

Resources to Prevent and Address Alcohol and Other Drug Misuse

Dear Students,

Baldwin Wallace University is committed to promoting safety and well-being for its students, employees, their families, and the public. Recognizing that the misuse of alcohol and other drugs poses a risk to health and safety, the University compiles and distributes information about alcohol and other drug-related policies and resources to all students, faculty, and staff on an annual basis.

Additionally, the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments (DFSCA) of 1989 requires that as a condition of receiving funds or any other form of financial assistance under any Federal program, institutions of higher education must certify that they have implemented a program to prevent unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees. The Drug-Free Workplace Act of

- Food and nonalcoholic beverages (determined by BW Dining Services in relation to the size and duration of the event) must be served and accessible in areas where alcohol will be served.
- No more than two alcoholic drinks per person may be served at one time.
- High-risk drinking activities, such as chugging, drinking games, devices for rapid consumption (e.g., funnels), and offering alcohol as contest prizes, are prohibited. Common sources (e.g., kegs) are not permitted.

Additional Requirements for Student Organizations

The Alcohol Policy supplements, rather than replaces, the Code of Student Conduct, University policies, and local, state, and federal law. The Student Organization Handbook and national organization standards also apply; student organizations should refer to both documents when planning events. Off-campus events may have different requirements. In addition to the above, student organizations must adhere the following requirements:

Hosting organizations must designate an advisor aged 21 years or older as the event sponsor. Event sponsors, whether present or not, will be held accountable for any incident related to the event, and are responsible for maintaining and providing proof of insurance with the event request form.

A minimum of two sober hosts per fifty event guests must abstain from alcohol use, be present throughout the event, and identify themselves to security officers at the start of the event.

Security for all student org events

Event sponsors must work with BW Dining Services to designate systems for controlling access to alcohol (e.g., guest lists, wristbands).

University funds cannot be used to purchase alcohol.

Policy on Instructional Planning in Response to Health

Following a sustained response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and health authorities have communicated that we are now in an endemic response, equipped with tools and resources to better protect ourselves and our communities. We must continue to work together to manage ongoing public health needs including COVID-19 and other illnesses and injuries including by actively partnering with students and being attuned to changing terrain.

If students, faculty, or staff are symptomatic, they are instructed NOT TO ATTEND class and to seek immediate/timely medical guidance to clarify what might be causing those symptoms before returning to class. This cautious approach will necessitate flexibility, grace, and understanding when enforcing attendance policies.

Frequent, timely, and clear communication is paramount. When students are impacted by COVID, they are expected to communicate with you to keep pace with any class content they miss. When faculty members are impacted by COVID, they are expected to communicate with students about any changes to the course delivery method/content/assignments, etc., that must be made.
